

Call for Globally Assigned Sessional Facilitators

OISE Continuing & Professional Learning

OISE Continuing and Professional Learning (OISE CPL) is currently recruiting Sessional Facilitators for global initiatives.

ABOUT OISE CONTINUING & PROFESSIONAL LEARNING (OISE CPL)

OISE CPL is the continuing education and innovation unit for the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE), University of Toronto – Canada's #1 Faculty of Education and #7 education research institute globally. Situated within the division of OISE Research, International & Innovation, the OISE Office of Continuing & Professional Learning serves education professionals and education organizations from across all three education sectors (PK-12, PSE & Workplace-Lifelong Learning) in over 59 countries globally.

What do we do?

- We design, develop, and deliver short-duration credentials and work-integrated learning solutions to serve the skills and leadership capability development needs of education professionals.
- We apply our research and expertise to develop, design and implement custom education programs and professional services serving government agencies, civil service organizations and corporations across Canada and abroad.
- We incubate and accelerate education innovation initiatives and methods with InnovED - our campus-linked accelerator with the University of Toronto's Entrepreneurship network (ranked top 3 in the world) serving education entrepreneurs and entrepreneurship education initiatives locally and globally.

ABOUT THIS OPPORTUNITY

OISE CPL is working in collaboration with a leading international foundation serving the professional development needs of educators and education systems in the MENA region. For this initiative, you are an experienced K-12 practitioner (e.g. teacher, teacher assistant and/or a school leader) with experience teaching, leading and mentoring education professionals in Canada. You bring keen insights into the needs of today's K-12 teachers and school leaders and how these needs can be addressed through professional learning experiences and community networks.

As a globally assigned Sessional Facilitator, you will travel and work internationally, in a short-term capacity, enabling the effective implementation of OISE CPL professional learning programs and services.

LEARNING & WORKING WITH US

We believe every one of us is both a learner and an educator and that teaching professionals is the ultimate professional development opportunity for educators to hone our professional craft. By actively engaging in the act of teaching adult-professionals, we not only advance our own knowledge and capabilities, we also connect to our professional peers and learning networks in ways that re-invigorate our professional practice.

When you join OISE CPL as a globally assigned Sessional Facilitator, you join a teaching and learning community of talented colleagues with a broad range of education knowledge and professional skills to achieve our vision and deliver excellent educational outcomes. Further, we support with:

- Onboarding and a personal learning plan (including tools, guides, and peer support) rooted in a progressive professional achievement framework
- Administrative teaching and learning support throughout your assignment
- Access to professional development resources that includes the University of Toronto and OISE Libraries, a professional community and on-going professional development programming to advance in your role

Specific to globally assigned Sessional Facilitators, we provide:

- Pre-assignment orientation including destination orientation (geo-political, economic, cultural overview) and custom program deliverables, performance expectations
- Travel Visa Documentation requirements and medical examination/immunization travel recommendations
- Travel to and from the global assignment
- Accommodations while abroad for the duration of the global assignment
- Per-Diem for meals while on global assignment

As a member of the OISE CPL teaching and learning community, you bring curiosity and expertise which includes the following skills and experiences:

Required:

- Demonstrated experience facilitating in-person and hybrid professional learning sessions
- Demonstrated experience utilizing a variety of media to optimize professional learning
- Recent experience facilitating professional adult learning in Canada and educator training context
- Sound knowledge of contemporary educational theories, principles and models in pedagogy and adult education
- Demonstrated experience and skills needed for effective communication with people of other cultures (I.e. Cultural sensitivity, as expressed as cultural competence and knowledge)

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
OISE | ONTARIO INSTITUTE
FOR STUDIES IN EDUCATION

Preferred:

- International experience working with PK-12 teachers and school leaders
- Strong knowledge and experience in teaching and learning strategies to achieve professional learning experience goals and outcomes
- Demonstrated commitment to promoting principles of integrity, academic honesty, flexibility, and respect
- Experience working on short term international assignments
